Worshipping Despite a Pandemic

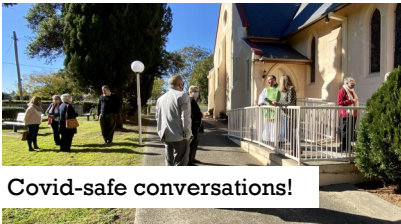

The surge in Covid-19 cases in NSW has left us following new restrictions for the safety of the community. Singing has been temporarily cancelled, communion has been modified and infection control protocols are being strictly followed. Despite this, services are still going strong!

Wearing masks, sanitising hands and following the 4 square metre rule are now the norm

Covid-safe conversations!

After a gap, the much missed post-service morning tea is back on, with Covid-safe measures in place. A hot cuppa in the warm sunshine and a friendly chat — and if you're lucky Jesse may throw in some home-grown lemons and oranges!

Using Their Gifts to Serve Others

1 Peter 4:10

A big thank-you to our volunteers, Ken and Allen, for all the hard work they put in to keep the gardens around our church well-maintained.

The faithful volunteers at the op-shop, under the guidance of Barbara and Sally, have continued to serve the community and extend a hand to those in need. Open from 8am to 1pm, Mon-Fri, and taking all Covid precautions, they have been a blessing not only to the community through recent crises, but also overseas, donating clothes to 'One Ten' for those in need outside Australia. Thank you for your efforts!

Fredo Pub Lunch

With the restructuring of the ministry in Frederickton, Jesse has initiated a service in Macleay Valley House every 4th Sunday, followed by a lunch at the Fredo pub. Everyone is welcome to join the lunch to help keep the fellowship alive in Fredo. Here's a wonderful opportunity to 'break bread together' outside the church building!
